DEDICATION

MR. JOHN L. DUPREE, Principal

As teacher, as coach, and as principal, Mr. John L. Dupree has endeared himself to every high school student. His friendliness has completely won our hearts and his complete understanding has meant much to us.

It is with sincere love and appreciation that we dedicate the 1939 last edition of the CANNON REPORT to Mr. John L. Dupree, principal of the James W. Cannon High School.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

When we began the Trail of Study,
With energy, ambition, and sincerity,
At the top of High Mt. Future
Rose the Precipice of Reality.

The Path was dimmed by shadow-fears,
The thorny by-paths of the hill;
Yet planning, singing, and dreaming
We trudged along, employed the will.

The higher heights and grander things
Like flowers of spring appeared;
The rocky mountain paths were smoothed,
The clouds from the heavens were cleared.

We climbed the trails, reached the peaks
Like an army undefeated;
With love, hope, and trust secure
The fears of the trail had retreated.

Our class mates urged us on our way;
Friends shared the weary road;
Our teachers blazed the trail ahead
And helped us bear the load.

And so with strong courageous hearts
We'll seek the upward way;
'Till the sitting sun shall close
The journey of life's day

CLASS HISTORY

On September 13 in the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-five, there landed upon the shores of High School Land 281 explorers and wisdom-seekers. Tired after a long, hard journey on the sea of inexperience, they were frightened by the three tribes already living in that territory. There were the Sophomore, the Juniors, and the Seniors. These elder tribes called this new band, Freshmen, meaning "green" in that realm's language. Despite their inexperience, these Pilgrims made rapid progress under the capable leadership of Mrs. Elizabeth Severence, Miss Estelle Farris, Miss Julia McLendon, Mr. Roscoe Eller, and Mr. W. A. Masten; with Mr. W. J. Bullock, the chief ruler, and Mr. J. W. Harbison as his governing principal. In order to protect the land from outside invasion and promote better fellowship among the four tribes living there, the Council of Student Participation in Government, and the publishing of a chronicle, "The Cannon Report," was begun. With no great catastrophe and much success, the first year of citizenship in the Land of High School drew to a close.

During the next year the Freshmen advanced and took possession of the strongholds vacated by the Sophomores when they succeeded to the Junior territory. The Freshmen hardships had taken their toll for now there were only 216 colonists, 96 boys and 120 girls. New fields of learning were conquered and annexed. As time passed the Sophomores found their pilgrimage easier, for their previous experience and the aid of such understanding leaders as Mr. Thomas MacLean, Miss Margaret Boylan, Miss Margaret Franks, and Mr. E. K. Lewis. An assembly known as the Alpha Chi Sigma was begun. May Day and Forensic Day were two of the contests which the united tribes engaged in just before the close of this period.

Several changes were noted in epoch three. These valiant pilgrims now rose to second in power and occupied the territory which the Juniors had occupied. They chose Henry Lipe, Jr. to preside over them as chief executive with George Gillon, Inez Walters, and Albert Sloop to assist him. The number of members was found to total 156, 71 boys and 85 girls. Faculty rulers during this period were J. W. Harbison, principal, Miss Helen Dugan, Mrs. Kate Lewis, and Mr. J. D. Taylor. An outstanding event was the Junior Class play, "The Impatience of Job." Important "revelry" functions were the Senior-Junior party, the Senior-Junior Alumni party, and the Junior-Senior Banquet given at the Yadkin Hotel in Salisbury.

The historical period four was marked by important revision, for the band who had invaded Freshman Land were now Seniors, the mighty leaders of the whole realm. The pilgrims now numbered 159, 79 boys and 80 girls. They chose Henry Lipe, Jr. again as president; Harry Dayvault, vice-president; Inez Walter, secretary; and Albert Sloop, treasurer, with Miss Helen Whitley, Miss Loraine Gray, Mrs. Julia Neal, and Mrs. John Oehler as guides. George Gillon was chosen "chief" of the Council of Student Government, with Lawrence Seymour as "under-chief." This organization had as its guests, delegates from most of the tribes in the whole Land of High School and entertained them royally. "The Cannon Report," under the editorship of Thomas Anderson, was given second rating by the National Scholastic Press Association, and the Girls' Glee Club won third place in the State Contests. May Day and Field Day were also successful.

This pilgrim band has conquered all the hardships the Land of High School has to offer. They are trained for a higher and greater battle—The Battle of Life. Yet they take their departure from the Land of High School sadly.

CANNON REPORT

PROPHECY

'Tis the year of 1960! The "age of miracles" has arrived. Licing on planets is an established fact. All traffic problems have been solved, and the class of '39 is scattered over the Milky Way, Mars, Jupiter, and Venus.

Our class president, Henry Lipe, Jr., is the owner of Milky Way Mills, and this new mill is furnishing much competition for Cannon Mills Co. In this large concern we also find Earl Allen and M. J. Barger, able-bodied and efficient managers, who are so good they can take a few threads and make one of their best-selling towels. Evelyn Bonds and Geraldine Allen are the neat and capable secretaries.

In the cinema world Claudine Barbee, our prettiest girl, has the honor of being the top ranking film player. J. T. Correll and his assistant, J. D. White, are preparing a musical comedy, "Follies of 1960," Neal McCombs, all-star comedian, is dragging around a goose because he doesn't want to be too much like Joe Penner. Marjoriene Coley is playing Juliet on the world's largest stage. Her success is doubtless due to the direction of Garrison Freeman, the scenarios of Lamonte Goldston, the management of W. T. Kiser, and the ballyhoo of Naomi Benton. Managing her fan mail are Rachel Felker and Arline Hare.

Edith Thompson is preparing to marry into the Woolworth's millions. Clara Overcash has just inherited a few million dollars from a once rejected admirer. She just can't decide how to spend it.

Speaking of undecided minds, George Brandon has been debating for the past twenty years whether or not to make architecture his vocation. Regardless of George's inability to decide his fateful question, Lloyd Hipps, the world's foremost architect, has built office buildings that scrape the sky, theaters, that seat thousands, government universities for higher public education, and factories for unbelievable mass production.

Aubrey Fox in his second childhood suddenly had an intense desire to play football, so Charlie Crayton, popular captain of the high school team, is trying to teach him the art and technique of the game. Rose McDaniel is now publishing her twentieth novel, "Velvet Passion," while our poet, Edna Hartsell, has enjoyed equal success with her "Odes to a Daisy." Their metropolitan offices are similar to the new National Public Library, wherin Romania Eckerd reigns as supreme librarian. Robert McQuire manages New York's highest hotel, Waldoris, home of the ultra-elite.

The globe-trotting expeditions of Lewis Davis, "Believe it or Not" hunter, are becoming more and more intense, for the public thinks nothing strange in this era. Down in the South Seas, Alton Todd and Lee McIntyre are doing missionary work, while Jack Clevenger and Edward Moss are trying high pressure on the natives in an effort to get rid of some surplus refrigerators.

The Feminine World is kept up to par by Zola Allen, fashion commentator, whose topic is "The Well Dressed Woman of Today." Dorothy Readling has established an exclusive fashion shop for ladies. Her styles are the very latest, and her name is well known. Modeling for her and helping bring in the profits are four expert and beautiful mannequins—Gladie Alexander, Helen Julian, Rosalie Kelly, and Erlene Williford.

Harry Dayvault and Earl Marlin, beverage specialists for two decades, have solved the problem by introducing to the world a new beverage which contains all the powers of the South Mountain Special, but keeps the imbiber as sober as a judge. Guenton Slawson is executive of the now mighty industry and rests in gilded ease upon the profits of the sober, but spirited public.

Mildred Carter and Margaret Payne are now owners of a chain of restaurants with Lola Shore and Roberta Ruff introducing new dishes every week. (Note: Food pills are a definite failure. Their manufacture, predicted by Horace Sills to be a booming industry by 1980, was stopped by the government in 1955.)

Women are in politics as deeply as men. A new political party has appeared and threatens to parade into Washington immediately upon the order of their leader, Sarah Frye, who with her assistants, Rena Herman and Virginia Scarboro, has assembled a mighty band of heroines who demand wealth and fame for everybody. Television—yesterday's dream—is a reality. Radio Station WXYZ is located in every principal city of the world. Manager of the American Division is George Gillon, who with his assistants Glenn Deal and Lewis Scarborough, fills the air with sight waves galore.

CANNON REPORT

Frank Corbin has encamped in Chile to command a nitrate quarry, and in the wilds of Brazil, Rankin Baker and Millard Alexander are searching for cobras coiled around banana trees. David Beaver and Luthel Pethel are combing the Antarctic to find the gold mine Admiral Byrd abandoned back in 1949. Eddie Cochran, always interested in science, is contemplating a new model of the stratosphere. Jimmy Irby is operating America's National Public Hospital assisted by Drs. Lucille Barringer and Hazel Brown, while the nurses are Louise Johnson, Eloise Drake, and Norena Pruitt.

Ruby Sills is dean of a finishing school for girls. Assisting her are Audrey Fogleman, history teacher; Kathrine Norris, English teacher; Mary Frances Rollins, French teacher; and Eunice Sloop, music teacher. Thomas Anderson is editing "The Daily Flash" while Hazel Powell dashes around town as his news editor. Frances Brooks, known to the world as "Miss Lonely Hearts," busily pecks away her replies to love-lorn suppliants as Mildred Julian, the sob sister, dishes the dirt, and Lillian DeMarcus, in her column, "Hark Universe," warns readers to "Be! Be! To the utmost of your ability, Be!"

The Duchess of Frothingham (Sammie McCoy), craving adventure, fled to Europe and is now reigning over the Frothingham Gardens and stealing the hearts of young Dukes and Earls.

Howard Linker has seriously taken up aviation, which originated in a hobby. David Alexander is piloting a well-known sky taxi around the world, and his air hostesses are Helen Hester and Margaret Sifford. Marjory Cress is a successful aviatrix, who started flying to forget a certain love affair.

Beryl and Helen Roberts are successful personnels of a day nursery. Annie Robinette and Audrey Woodward are pleading for pensions which will benefit old maids over sixty. Frank Schenck and Herman Morrison are combining their efforts toward inventions which will aid mankind. Ivory Barnes is studying to be a cosmetic expert.

The cities of the world are kept clean by an efficient device, the brain-child of T. P. Beaver, finishing in S. S. Ray Dougherty and James Christy head the police and detective force. James Whitten's fireproof building materials and Lambert O'Daniel's extinguishing machine have made destructive fires a thing of the past.

Rebecca Bost lectures on "How to Keep Fit at Forty." China's war lord, Hwing, Hwang, Wwong (J. P. Sills), is seeking a war with Japan, but wars are gone now, due to the efforts of our pacifist, feminine, diplomatic corps of Hazel Norton, Gladys Teague, and Jurrel Greason.

Laura Lee Hampton is editor of the "Women's Business Journal;" across the hall, Dollie Gray is editing the "Gentlemen's Home Companion." Ralph and Kyle Goodnight have gone in the Milky White Laundry Business. Lawrence Seymour is an up-and-coming auditor in a big bank. Lorene Simpson, Frances Brigman and Jennie Pethel have combined their artistic abilities and painted many world famous pictures. Doris Daniels and Martha Hartis have a partnership in a famous beauty salon. Gene Wrenn is doing well as manager of the Dupont Manufacturing Co., while Ruth Bostian and Gaynelle Parker are the best interior decorators to be found.

Ray Childers and Glenn Lowder are both commanders in the Army Air Corps. Virginia Gaston, Inez Taylor, and Kathrine Irby are three happily married women. Mattie Gardner, Daisy Bell, and Margaret Smith have gone in for nursing, so if there is a war they can take care of the wounded men. Hazel Overcash has already been made head nurse at the Johns Hopkin Hospital. The two Holdbrooks brothers, David and Henry Lee, are electrical engineers, while the two Jones boys, Ben and Glenn, make up the two vice-presidents of a huge chain of grocery stores. Albert Sloop is the most respected mathematics teacher that has ever taught at Harvard University. Euverla Tidwell is one of the very greatest concert pianists, while Julia Taylor, private secretary, is having trouble keeping all of Euverlia's personal appearances straight.

Carl Parker has turned out to be a very noted civil engineer. Floyd Daves, Jr. and Clinton Barker are well-meaning politicians of this year. Margaret Leazer won an Olympic title with her swimming and diving powers. Al Cloninger and Sam Collins are well-known baseball players, and it has been rumored that Al's ambition is to knock a ball over to the moon. Annie Bryant and Mary Virginia Alexander are instructors of a class for girls in "How to develop your body for $5.00 an hour." Melvin Barringer has just bought a big cattle ranch where he plans to make his fortune. Retha Thompson tours America hunting antiques for a large furniture company. Green Lee Ellison has been appointed Secretary of Economics and has solved all farm, budget, and employment problems.

The year of 1960 is drawing slowly to a close. Will the next ten years be as great and successful? Who knows? Time alone will tell.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of 1939, of J. W. Cannon High School, in the city of Kannapolis and State of North Carolina, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make and declare this our Last Will and Testament in the manner and form following.

ARTICLE I

To the School:

We leave to you our respect, loyalty, and a desire for a very prosperous future.

ARTICLE II

To Our Oncoming Class:

We leave to you our coveted front seats in the auditorium.

ARTICLE III

To the Teachers:

We leave to you a desire that next year's students will work harder and will continue to keep up the school spirit.

ARTICLE IV

To the Individuals:

I, Gladys Teague, do hereby will and bequeath my shortness of statue to Hazel Karriker, hoping she will be able to see in a crowd better than I.

I, Zola Allen, do hereby will and bequeath my position as Mr. Dupree's secretary first period, and to keep doing the things he wants me to with a smile, even after he's walked the baby all night, and to have a ready giggle for all of Mr. Kornegay's stale jokes to Howard Deaton, knowing he will fulfill this position to the utmost of his ability.

I, G. Lee McIntyre, graduating from Cannon High School at the ripe old age of 30, do hereby will and bequeath my gray hairs, my ability to work on the second shift, and to stay awake on class to Clarence Pitts, for I know that he needs these qualities to carry him through the Senior Class of next year.

I, Ray Childers, do hereby will and bequeath my height to Alfred Morgan, believing that he can use some of it.

I, Horace Sills, do hereby will and bequeath my love for Jessie James to Frankie Patterson, hoping he will love him as I have—"Hi Ho Silver."

I, Hazel Powell, do hereby will and bequeath my monitorial badge and my position to Jamima Powell, and my ability to laugh (at the wrong time) to Lamina Riggs.

I, Thomas Anderson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have a girl waiting on me in every state I visit, to Bobby McClary, hoping he doesn't get into as much trouble over them as I have.

I, Garrison Freeman, will and bequeath my ability to filibuster, and my ability to get along with Mrs. Neal to Walter Goodman.

I, Margaret Sifford, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get out of class to go see Miss Franks to next year's basketball manager. May she use this to her advantage as much as I did.

I, Melvin Pilkinton, do hereby will my old English book to John Teague.

I, Clarence Randolph, do will my love for graduates to Truman Chapman.

I, Frank Schenck, do leave my best wishes to the faculty and school.

I, Lawrence Seymour, do hereby will my ability to get along with Mr. Hudson to Frankie Patterson.

I, J. P. Sills, do hereby will my good times to Gaither Critz.

I, Alton Todd, do hereby will my love to the entire school and its inhabitants.

I, Mary Virginia Alexander, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to talk longer and louder than anyone else to Virginia Poe.

I, George Bagby Brandon, Jr., do hereby will and bequeath my ability to day dream on class to Paul R. Kearns, hoping he will not be called down as much as I.

I, Albert Sloop, do hereby will and bequeath my job as treasurer of the Senior Class and my ability to forget Chemistry and Geometry to Horace Robertson.

I, Louise Johnson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be places on time to Bobby McClary hoping he can use it as well as I did.

I, J. D. White, do will my name of "Sleepy" to John Dial.

I, James Whitten, do hereby leave the memory of my good times to Alton Eddleman.

I, Annie Bryant, do hereby will and bequeath my guard position on the basketball team, to Helen Brown, hoping she can uphold it better than I.

I, Judy McKinley do hereby will and bequeath the honor of being head cheer leader to Betty Ross Dellinger for the year of '39-'40.

I, Rachel Felker do hereby will and bequeath to Doris Faggart my waves, knowing that she is willing to furnish the curls.

I, Rebecca Bost, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to blush to anyone interested.

I, Ruby Sills, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to bring visitors to class and be sent out, to Miss Killian's future classes.

I, Glenn Lowder, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to not make good in English to Mary Frances Bassinger, hoping she will make use of it.

I, Eloise Drake, do hereby will and bequeath my shortness of stature to Nay Delle Mattox.

I, Frank Corbin, do will and bequeath my ability of going to all the football and basketball games at home and away to Frankie Patterson, hoping he will keep up the school spirit.

I, Eddie Cochran, do hereby will to Hoyle Efird a desire for study and to Cannon High School a wish for more honors in the future.

I, Kathryn Irby, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to attend school at least three days a week to Willie Jo Bray, hoping she will keep up the tradition.

I, Frances Brigman, do hereby will and bequeath my bashfulness to Julia Mills Driver.

I, Euverla Tidwell, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play the piano to Lennie Tillie, who desires to be a musician, and I hope she will find as much pleasure in it as I have found.

I, Helen Julian, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to control my temper to Jim Russell, hoping he will use it while on the basketball court.

I, Mary Frances Rollins, do hereby will and bequeath one of my eyes, either the brown one or the blue one, to any unfortunate underclassman who is in the same predicament.

I, "Dot" Readling, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to have a good time at parties regardless of with whom I am, to Doris Faggart and my love for dancing to Paul Kearns.

I, Carl Parker, Jr., do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make the best of the worst, my love of living, and my love for beautiful girls to Alfred Morgan.

I, Margaret Leazer, do hereby will my love for ball players to Miss Margaret Amanda Franks.

I, Rena Herman, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to warm the bench in all sports to Jamima Powell.

I, Arline Hare, do hereby will and bequeath my privilege to talk in Mr. Hudson's Sociology class to Sarah Yates, hoping she will take advantage of it as much as I have.

I, J. T. Correll, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to chew and pop my one wad of chewing gum to Mrs. Neal, hoping that she will use it during all her classes to her utmost advantage.

I, Luther Pethel, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to blush to Mavoureen Puntch, hoping that she will not be made to blush as I have.

I, Katherine Norris, do hereby will and bequeath my love for Chemistry to "Dot" Bell hoping that she will be a better "atom buster" than I.

I, George Whitson Gillon, do hereby will and bequeath to Paul Kearns my position as president of the student body and my good looks to Bobby McClary.

I, Sammie McCoy, do hereby will and bequeath the ability of my hair to fall on rainy days longer and stringier than any other senior girls to Doris Faggart, hoping she will be able to keep it rolled better than I.

I, Glenn Jones, do hereby will and bequeath my love for Concord girls to R. D. Dayvault.

I, W. T. Kiser, do hereby will and bequeath my love for dear old Cannon High to anyone.

I, Jimmie Irby, do hereby will and bequeath my position as catcher for the varsity baseball team to Harold Patterson, hoping he will be able to fill "Footsie's" shoes (since I can't).

I, Evelyn Bonds, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be at school every day on time, even if it is raining and cold, to Harry Hastings, my very best wishes to J. W. Cannon High School.

I, Inez Taylor Hodgens, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get married and contine my school work to Myrtle Moore, wishing her much success in doing so.

I, Virginia Gaston, do hereby will and bequeath my slenderness of waist to Edith Holloway, hoping with much dieting she may sometime acquire it.

I, Edward Moss, do hereby will and bequeath to Hoyle Efird my ability to be quiet on class without going to sleep.

I, Hazel Littleton, do leave my privilege of never being alone to Ruby Rogers.

I, Ben Jones, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play "crack"-ed roles in plays to any actress or actor in the 1940 class feeling they can uphold the high standards set forth.

I, Margaret Payne, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get ready on time to Mary Lee Tesh, knowing that she needs it.

I, Mildred Carter, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be a senior to all the people who fail.

I, Virginia Scarboro, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play softball to Frances Daves.

I, Rankin Baker, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to win swimming championships to Roy Deaton, my desire to serve my fellowmen to Lennie Tilley, and my best wishes to J. W. Cannon High School.

I, Lewis Scarborough, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep my mouth shut at all times, except in Physics, to Ray Tate and to the school I leave my best wishes.

I, Hazel Brown, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in Business Correspondence to Gaynelle Cooke and my sweet disposition to Elizabeth Smith.

I, Claudine Barbee, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get along with teachers to Howard Deaton, seeing that he needs it.

I, Lola Shore, do hereby will and bequeath to Estelle Peele, my job in the library and the office second period.

I, Sara Frye, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to laugh on class to Ruby Lunsford, knowing she can continue it.

I, "Wimpy" Slawson, do hereby will and bequeath my spelling ability to Melvin Pilkington.

I, Laura Lee Hampton, do hereby will and bequeath to Helen McCall my ability to keep quiet and only giggle at the right time.

I, Jack Clevenger, do hereby will and bequeath my height to Charles Ferguson hoping he will grow into a man some day.

I, Frank Schenck, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to avoid throwing things when I shouldn't and of placing all waste paper in waste baskets to the future students of J. W. Cannon High School

I, Naomi Benton, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to use my left hand to Ann Ketchum, hoping that she will not get as tangled up with her paws as I have.

I, Lorene Simpson, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to always be on time for school to Ruth Ballord, hoping she will keep up the good record.

I, Al Cloninger, do hereby will and bequeath my football jersey, number 90, to Howard Deaton, and may it fit him like a tent. He may also hide in it when Children's Home starts to tackle him.

I, Gladie Alexander, do hereby will and bequeath both my high and low grades to "Merely" (my sister) hoping she makes less use of the low grades and more use of the high ones than I have in the past.

I, Hazel Overcash, do hereby will and bequeath my one and only dimple to Evelyn Boone to match the one she now owns.

I, Rose Marie McDaniel, do hereby will and bequeath my ardent love for geometry to Nezie King, hoping she can make better than D on it.

I, Margaret Smith, do hereby will and bequeath my seat in chapel to Ruby Rogers, hoping she enjoys it as much as I have.

I, Annie Robinette, do hereby will and bequeath my freckles to "Poodle" Cline, knowing she will have enough along with hers.

I, Eugene L. Wrenn, Jr., do hereby will and bequeath my position as stage manager to Charlie Cassel, hoping he enjoys it as much as I did.

I, Julia Taylor, do hereby will and bequeath my seat as president of the dramatic club to Nan De Laney, hoping she will enjoy sitting in it as much as I have.

I, Mattie Gardner, do hereby will and bequeath my scattered brains to Helen Harrington.

I, Edna Hartsell, do hereby will and bequeath my "cool" temper to Mr. Hudson, wishing the Sociology class better luck next year.

I, Marjorine Coley, do hereby will and bequeath my position on the basketball court to my sister, Faynelle.

I, Margie Cress, do hereby will and bequeath my interest in Landis to Sarah Deal.

I, Martha Hartis, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get out of Mr. McCarn's study hall to Hazel Blackwelder.

I, Helen Hester, do hereby will and bequeath my debating ability to W. A. Ritchie.

I, Hazel Norton, do hereby will and bequeath my love for theatre ushers to Hazel Burton.

I, Robert Lamonte Goldston, do hereby will and bequeath my seat beside C. L. Maulden in the band to Walter Goodman, hoping he will get as much fun out of it as I have.

I, Glenn Deal, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to play on all junior teams to Horace Robertson, hoping that he will advance to the varsity some day.

I, Neale McCombs, do hereby will and bequeath my dark hair and complexion to Doris Lindsay, seeing that variety is the spice of life.

I, Edith Thomason, do hereby will and bequeath my very black hair to Mary Frances Bassinger hoping she will be satisfied.

I, Lillian Kirk DeMarcus, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to understand geometry to Betty Sue Peller, hoping that she will take advantage of the offer.

I, Eunice Sloop, do hereby will and bequeath my continuous theme writing to anyone in the coming Senior Class that might enjoy it more than I.

I, Elmer Davis, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to get out of classes to Helen Brown, hoping that she can get out of as many as I have.

I, Earl Allen, do hereby will and bequeath to my little brother, Wade, my raincoat, for he will have to walk to school next year in the rain.

I, Leonard Hampton, do hereby will and bequeath to Helen McCall, a rising senior, my dancing ability, knowing she will accept it gladly because she likes to dance very much, and to Cannon High School and teachers my very best wishes.

I, Gaynelle Parker, do hereby will and bequeath my "pet" warts to Mary Earley, hoping she will give them as much attention as I have.

I, Howard Linker, realizing that my time here is drawing to a close, do hereby will and bequeath my height to Virginia Hartness, hoping that she will be able to look over a crowd as well as I, and to Miss Whitley my ability to carry the tune to the popular "Hill Billy" song, "It Makes No Difference Now."

I, Millard Alexander, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep quiet on class, sometimes, to William Gibbons.

I, Helen Roberts, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to warm benches in softball to Frances Robinette, hoping she doesn't use it as much as I did.

I, Dorothy Jurell Greeson, do hereby will and bequeath my nothing to anybody, hoping they enjoy it as much as I.

I, Audrey Woodward, do hereby will and bequeath my love for arithmetic to Dorothea Woodward, knowing she will need it very much before finishing high school.

I, Inez Walter, do hereby will and bequeath my tennis outfit, consisting of shorts, beer jacket, and racket, to "Dot" McCoy, hoping she will benefit from them as I have.

I, Rosalie Kelly, do hereby will and bequeath my Ford V-8 to Mauoureen Puntch, hoping she can keep it filled with gas and oil better than I could.

I, Beryl Roberts, do hereby will and bequeath my height and feet to Blondie Pethel, hoping that we both grow taller in the years to come.

I, Lloyd Lowder, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to flip a coin to Ralph Nichols and hope he wins more than I have.

I, David Alexander, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to drive a car to Bernice Winecoff.

I, M. J. Barger, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname "Shag" to Hoyt Overcasn.

I, Clinton Barker, do hereby will and bequeath my extra fat to Ray Tate, knowing he can accommodate it as I did.

I, Melvin Barringer, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to "jerk" sodas to Harold Puntch.

I, Harry Dayvault, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to make touchdowns against Concord to my kid brother, R. D.

I, Charlie MacDonald Crayton, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to pull deuces out of a deck to Cliff Fowler and the Concord girls who break dates with me to Alfred Morgan.

I, Jennie Pethel, do hereby will and bequeath my artistic ability and my fancy handwriting to Christine Troutman, hoping she will become an artist some day.

I, Dollie Gray, desiring to keep my only record in the family, do hereby will and bequeath my perfect attendance record to Harold Patterson, trusting he will strive to keep his perfect.

I, Lewis, "Stinky" Davis, do hereby will and bequeath my nickname of "Chesty" to R. W. Harky.

I, Kyle Goodnight, do hereby will and bequeath my old car to Red Shuping.

I, Ralph Goodnight, do hereby will and bequeath my good times on class to Murray Jackson.

I, Lloyd Hipps, do hereby will and bequeath my love for dark-haired girls to Hoyle Efird.

I, David Holdbrooks, do hereby will a lock of my hair to Mary Frances Bassinger.

I, Henry Lee Holdbrooks, do hereby leave my radio to anyone who likes "Old Man Mose."

I, David Beaver, do hereby will and bequeath my (ability) to tear up fenders to Bernice Winecoff.

I, Clara Overcash, do hereby will and bequeath my love for tall, dark, and handsome boys to Doris Lindsay.

I, Herman Morrison, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to pass English to Forrest Mahaffey.

I, Ray Daugherty, do hereby will and bequeath my love for aviation to Ernest Bowles, knowing that he will receive as much from it as I have.

I, Lucille Barringer, do hereby will and bequeath my freckles to R. W. Harky, recommending the old reliable "Stillman's freckle cream" and hoping he tries as hard to get rid of them as I did.

I, Doris Daniel, do hereby will and bequeath my northern accent to Miss Hood along with my flourishing sense of humor.

I, James Christie, do hereby will and bequeath my love for Miss Hood to Billy Robinson.

I, Sam Collins, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to be baseball captain to Zazu Pitts.

I, Junior Daves, do hereby will and bequeath my car for taking softball girls to the games to Betty Ross Dellinger.

I, Henry Lipe, do hereby will and bequeath my love to ride in Miss Whitley's car to Bobby McClary.

I, Robert McGuire, do hereby will and bequeath my love for banquets to Joe Thomason, seeing he likes to go like I do.

I, Lee McIntyre, do hereby will my desire to be a preacher to C. L. Maulden.

I, Earl Marlin, do hereby will and bequeath my bass playing ability to Bobby Ridenhour.

In witness whereof, we, the said seniors, do hereunto set our hand and seal, the 17th day of May, 1939.

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the said seniors to be their last will and testament in the presence of us, who, at their request and in their presence (and in the presence of each other), do subscribe our names as witnesses thereto.

CANNON REPORT

BOY'S BASKETBALL

Front Row—J. T. Correll, James Russell, Lewis Davis, Captain; R. W. Harkey, Ray Childers, and J. D. White.

Second Row—Ben Jones, Manager; Bill Cook, Luther Pethel, Lloyd Lowder, David Alexander, Bill Byrd, Norman Hamrick, and Coach Howard Baker.

Third Row—Archie Nesbit, Garrison Freeman, Charlie Gardner, and R. D. Dayvault.

Due to the lack of experienced men the team of '39 did not fare so well on the basketball courts. The new squad faced many difficulties from the start.

Only one letterman, Lewis Davis, returned to practice and the schedule was one of the toughest faced by a Little Wonder team. Al Cloninger, fast stepping center, was kept out of the games due to an injury received in football playing. However, Childers, Harkey, Russell, and White under the guidance of Coach Baker, proved to be effective on the court.

CANNON REPORT

FOOTBALL TEAM

Second Row: Billy Robertson, Acct. Mgr.; Gene Wrenn, Hoyle Efird, Truman Chapman, Al Cloninger, R. D. Dayvault, Leonard Hampton, Bill Cook, Frank Patterson, Mgr.

FOOTBALL 1939

With two new coaches, Lester "Buck" McCarns and Harry "Quack" Sanders, the Little Wonders started out with eleven inexperienced men who were rapidly trained into a fast stepping squad.

These eleven men, under the tutoring of the two local boys, defeated eight teams out of ten scheduled games, and lost only one conference game.

Cloninger, Davis, Crayton, Leazer, Fowler, and Dayvault were some of the outstanding men, with Leazer being chosen to the All Conference team.

BASEBALL

First Row—James Russell, Harold Patterson, Norman Hamrick, Lewis "Stinky" Davis, R. W. Harkey, Garlin Donaldson, Sam Collins, Captain; Jimmy Irby, Peck Osborne, Coach Howard Baker—Alfred Morgan, Bat Boy.

Third Row—Neale McCombs, Manager; Archie Nesbit, Al Cloninger, R. D. Dayvault, Ray Childers.

Although the Little Wonders baseball team didn't win a championship this year, they were represented on the diamond by a squad of nine good players, with Sam Collins, the captain and Mr. Howard Baker, the coach.

Behind the expert pitching of Hoby Ellison, David Alexander, Harry Dayvault, and Ray Childers, plus the heavy hitting of Al Cloninger, Lewis Davis, R. W. Harkey, and Garlin Donaldson, the team was a tough opponent for any competition.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL

First Row—Franees Robinette, Leona Graybeal, Willene Lackey, Helen Roberts, Frances Daves, Manager. Sarah Deal, Thelma Scarboro, Jamima Powell.
Seeond Row—Coach Margaret Franks, Helen Brown, Mary Virginia Alexander, Virginia Scarboro, Annie Bryant, Rena Herman, Geraldine Honeycutt, Margaret Leazer, and Hazel Powell, Manager.

The girl's softball team, under the coaching of Miss Margaret Franks, proved to be one of the most successful sports in Cannon High School this year.

This team, composed of ten players, most of them experieneed, went through the season with a perfect record—eight victories out of eight games—thereby winning the South Piedmont Conference Championship.

PHOTOGRAPHY is a tremendously large factor in the education of today.

KEATES SAYS: "A thing of beauty is a joy forever; its loveliness increases." We aim to put both heart and conscience into our product, which means expert workmanship, strictly modern equipment and ideal surroundings, which in turn is prohibitive of amateurishness.

We have never sought to compete with the amateur because our product is maintained upon a distinctly professional basis.
